Advocating for Yourself at Work (60 minutes)

This workshop will help you understand your value, and teach you how to communicate what you need to be successful in your role. We'll review how to articulate your strengths and identify any specific needs that will help you grow professionally. This workshop is led by Sophie Warwick, who specializes in developing in-house gender equity policies and chairing Employee Resource Groups, and Jillian Climie, who has spent her career in executive compensation.

Key takeaways include:

- Understanding your strengths and unique skill-set.
- Understanding your non-negotiables & where you do, and don't, have room for flexibility.
- Setting the stage for a positive & productive conversation that serves you and your employer.
- Communicating your value clearly and concisely.
- Identifying and prioritizing key elements that will make you more successful in your role.

Format: we offer both virtual and in-person workshops. Contact us today to learn more about our fees.

Jillian Climie (she/her)

Jillian Climie, Co-Founder of The Thoughtful Co, has spent her career advising and leading teams in executive compensation and corporate governance, both as a consultant, and in-house at two global retailers. Most recently at Lululemon, she led the global equity compensation and executive compensation programs. After taking a pause, she realized she wanted more of three things in her professional life: thoroughness, passion and freedom. She Co-Founded The Thoughtful Co so she can leverage her niche and technical experience, coupled with her passion for gender equity, to empower women to get paid what they deserve.

Sophie Warwick (she/her)

Sophie Warwick, Co-Founder of the Thoughtful Co, specializes in developing in-house gender equity policies and chairing Employee Resource Groups and advocacy groups. She uses her data analysis expertise from her engineering background to define targets and track growth and retention. In 2018, she Co-Founded Women in Consulting Engineering (WCE), a non-profit organization with over 500 members and monthly events to support and empower women in engineering. She co-founded The Thoughtful Co so she could build more gender inclusive workplaces and build representation of women at senior levels in all industries.
